Reviews

*A top quality publication and also the font employed was interesting to learn. It is really simplistic but excitement within the fifty percent from the book. Its been designed in an remarkably basic way in fact it is only following i finished reading this pdf where in fact changed me, modify the way i believe.

Pursuant to a congressional request, GAO provided information on U. S. business export statistics, focusing on the: (1) number of small- and medium-sized companies that export goods; (2) value of these companies exports; (3) types of firms that export; and (4) types of products they export. GAO noted that: (1) in 1997, about 202, 000 small- and medium-sized companies exported goods; (2) these companies accounted for 97 percent of U. S. exporters; (3) the number of U. S. small- and medium-sized exporters almost doubled from 1992 through 1997; (4) exports by these small- and medium-sized companies were valued at 172 billion in 1997, which is the most recent year for which data is available, and accounted for 31 percent of exported U. S. goods; (5) wholesalers, manufacturers, and other companies such as freight forwarders each accounted for roughly one third of the total number of small- and medium-sized exporters; (6) the largest four product groups that they exported were industrial machinery and computers, electric and electronic equipment, transportation equipment, and chemical products; and (7) these four groups accounted for over half of all exports by small- and medium-sized companies. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
